DISTINGUISHED MEN VISIT COLLEGE.

Sec. of Agriculture and Others Present.

Nearly the entire faculty and student body gathered in chapel last Saturday morning to welcome to this college several distinguished guests among whom were David F. Houston, Secretary of Agriculture, Wallace Buttrick, secretary of the general education board of the Rockefeller Foundation, and Governor Felker.

Secretary Houston gave an address that was full of suggestion and inspiration. He said among other things: "I am rather in sympathy with the one who said that college bre(a)d is a four year loaf, for I believe that academic bodies do more loafing than any other bodies that I know. Their most serious habit is not working. I have found it my hardest duty to find capable men to fill positions, yet we say we have no opportunity. There are hundreds of jobs open and will be. As a rule applicants for positions are inefficient, they are usually men who have failed in other fields. I believe that the college man should work eight hours a day for if he does not form the habit now he will find it hard to do so later. I am not hostile to the things that please young people but they should not take these things too seriously. We must not get more out of an experience than there is in it. Most of us can get more good out of things and people at large than we can out of the contact of smaller closer bodies."

"There is nothing that the nation needs today more than the thorough loyalty to the causes and measures that advance our country. The trouble with the people today is that they do not think; they do not get information concerning facts."

"This government is supposed to be a government of perfect opinions. It is therefore obvious that the nation should have the facts of a case. The source of this information is usually the press but that can not be perfect due to political interference."

"I wish every student would cultivate an opinion of mind that would try to get all the facts of a case and interpret these logically, clearly and honestly."

"We owe a definite duty not only to the state but to the nation for both are contributing to your own personal welfare and gain."

After the tremendous applause that followed the cabinet member's address had subsided, President Fairchild announced that he had promised Secretary Buttrick that he would not call on him, but that he did not say that the audience would not.

Thus entrapped, Sec. Buttrick responded in a most interesting and instructive talk. He ended by telling a parable the moral of which in detail was; that the object of education is not the application of knowledge wholly, rather the ability to see things, to compare things, and to combine things.

That Sec. Buttrick believes in the kind of work that agricultural colleges and experiment stations are carrying on, and that he is especially interested in New Hampshire and New Hampshire College is shown by a gift of $7,000 to be used in college extension work of a practical nature.

It is a gift that should be extremely appreciated not only by the college but by the state as well.

New Hampshire College should feel very fortunate in having the opportunity of entertaining such distinguished guests. To have the Secretary of Agriculture know us first hand is surely not a fact of little importance.

INFORMAL.

Another one of the informals, which was arranged by the social committee, was held Saturday night at the gym. There was a large attendance and the orchestra rendered some fine music, playing for a neatly arranged order of sixteen dances. The matrons were Mrs. Fairchild, Miss Thompson, Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Clark. The attendance was composed chiefly of students and an excellent evening was enjoyed by all.

New Hampshire College alumni are making preparations for the annual gathering in Boston, which this year will be held in the Elks Club house.

A large attendance of the graduates of the college is expected, as many of them are engaged in New England in agriculture, and in engineering work. President E. T. Fairchild will be present and will speak.

FRESHMAN AND SOPHOMORES PLAY TO A TIE.

Last Saturday witnessed the annual struggle between the Sophomore and Freshman football teams on the College Athletic Field. The two teams pushed and slid through the mud for four ten minute periods and when the final whistle blew the score stood 6 to 6.

A large crowd was present to witness the game and kept the players on edge by giving snappy yells of encouragement. The Sophomore backers were lead by cheer leader, P. S. Ward, while the Freshmen blew their lungs out to the rhythmic beats of George H. Foss.

The betting waged hot on both sides before the game and even money prevailed. Many bet their desserts for a month's time while others put up articles of clothing. Money was scarce as usual.

Promptly at 3 o'clock the Freshman team trotted onto the field led by Captain Kyle Westover and a few minutes later the Sophomore squad made their appearance headed by Captain Fred C. Manter. After a few minutes of preliminary practice the teams lined up. The Freshmen won the toss and elected to receive the ball.

Both teams tried the open style of game at the beginning but this did not seem to work. The ball see-sawed about in the center of the field for practically all the period. With only a few minutes remaining Westover picked up a fumble and ran from the center of the field for a touchdown. The Freshmen lost their chance to kick the goal on the kick out.

The Sophomores 'stung' by this unexpected score came back strong in the second period and worked the ball to the Freshmen's five-yard line when the whistle blew ending the half.

The 1916 team resorted to the old style line plugging game throughout the rest of the game and this proved to be their strong point. One after another of the Sophomore backs went ripping through the Freshman line for good gains. On a delayed pass in the third period Brown went over for a touchdown. Burbee failed to kick the goal.

Neither team scored during the fourth period. The Sophomores had the advantage in yards gained but could not seem to push the ball over for another touchdown. With only a few minutes to play Sanborn tried a drop kick from the 35 yard line but the pigskin sailed just under the crossbar and the chance of the 1916 team to win was gone.

Burbie starred for the Sophomores, especially in running back punts, while Brown, Manter and Hobbs ripped up the Freshman line for large gains. Westover constituted practically the entire Freshman team, and, although he was hounded by two or three 'Sophs' throughout the entire game, he played a sensational game.

The officials of the game, although sharply criticized at times, gave satisfactory service. They were as follows: Brackett, referee; Corriveau, umpire; Holden, head linesman.

The foundation for the new engineering building is all laid. The back work is going on rapidly. Progress is somewhat retarded because of the delay in getting here of the steel. The steel will be used for girders in the ceiling and to put over the window frames. The laboratory window frames are all set.

CHAPEL EXERCISES.

Miss Mary Morrison of Peterboro, member of the American Commission of Agriculture representing this state in the commission's recent tour of Europe, spoke at the chapel exercises last Wednesday.

Miss Morrison believes that the future prosperity of the state and the nation as well depends upon the ability to keep the coming generations on the farms. She said: "It is of the utmost importance that the New Hampshire farmer regain his lost prestige and that the farm shall be made not only a good place to be brought up on but a good place to remain. Europe knows a good deal more about agriculture than we, especially concerning the rotation of crops and the use of commercial fertilizers. Another great advantage that the European rural population has is their methods of co-operation in nearly all enterprises connected with the farm."

The address was exceedingly interesting to all who heard it but especially so to the agricultural faculty and students.

A detail report of commission's work will be published in either December or January.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

At the Y. M. C. A., meeting last Sunday S. G. Johnson '16, one of the delegates representing New Hampshire College at the annual Student Conference held last June at Northfield, gave an interesting report on his experiences and observations. Among the men whom he met during his stay there was Dr. E. Raymond Talbot, who is to speak before the Y. M. C. A. next Sunday. Dr. Talbot was formerly Professor of the Romance Languages at Boston University, but is now Student Secretary of the University and Technology and it is expected that the message he will bring will be worth special effort to hear.

NOTICE.

It has been called to the attention of the student welfare committee that some rooms occupied by students are not properly heated. Any student occupying such a room or knowing of someone occupying such a room will oblige the committee greatly by reporting the facts to me in person or by mail.

Chairman of the Student Welfare Com.

BOSTON OCTETTE COMING.

Next Friday evening the far famed Boston Octette, including the Shubert Quartette, will appear in Thompson Hall, where they will present their annual musical concert. Those who have heard this superbe aggregation need no explanation as to the quality of their concerts and the satisfaction which they render. To those who have not had the privilege of hearing them it is sufficient to say that they will be amply repaid for the money and time spent in hearing them.

The Freshmen Class picture has been finished and those who have seen the picture pronounce it an excellent group plate. The president, N. J. Harriman will announce the distribution of the pictures to those who have paid for them.

"WARNINGS."

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary to mete out to various and divers persons certain official documents, designated as warnings, the receivers of these self-same greetings begin at once to consider and ponder over the significance of such messages. Perhaps for the first time, the student then realizes just where he stands in the scholastic world, and comes face to face with his studies and himself. Then it is that he realizes more forcibly than ever before the actual, relationship, which has been heretofore existing between him and his own scholastic sphere.

The warnings that have recently been issued have doubtless been a source of disappointment to some, while others who were already nearly below the danger zone have been spared the official recognition of their actual standing. Now is no time for the student, who has been so fortunate as to escape this unwelcome attention from the faculty, to alleviate his routine duties towards his studies. The period when the mid-semester warnings are issued, while it is a benefit to the receivers of such announcements, is all too liable to be a period of danger and source of harm to many persons not receiving them. Unless care and prudence are exercised to a considerable degree at this time of the collegiate year, the non-recipients of these warnings are all too liable to fall into habits of slothfulness and carelessness.

It should be, nevertheless, a source of consolation to the recipients that their standing, is not lost irretrievably. Now is the time, if ever, when he should muster his forces, and put forth the best that is in him in his efforts to regain his laurels. It often happens, in the case of new men especially, that the sudden change from the methods of "prep." school to college ways is too radical for them. They are unable in the first few weeks of the college-year to adequately comprehend the meaning and significance of their new environment, and to change their methods accordingly. A little careful planning in their system of studying, in order to obtain the maximum amount of benefit from their labor, would add greatly to their knowledge and efficiency as well as the results ultimately obtained.

The many friends of J. H. Philbrick, instructor in woodwork, will regret to hear that he is seriously ill. It is hoped that in the course of a week he will be on the road to recovery.

H. A. Russell, of the freshman football team got a severely sprained ankle in last Saturday's game and will be inconvenienced for some time.

APPLE PACKING AND JUDGING TEAM WINS HONORS.

Last Thursday the New Hampshire College packing and judging teams both won second place at the New England Fruit Show, held in Boston, Mass. The packing team consisted of W. W. Wilder, J. P. Hayes Jr., and S. B. Emerson, while the judging team was composed of S. B. Emerson, W. W. Wilder, and R. W. Combs. The University of Maine won first place in both contests; only two points, however, separating Maine and New Hampshire in the judging. The ranking of the teams in both packing and judging was as follows: first, Maine; second, New Hampshire; third, Massachusetts; fourth, Vermont.

The teams, representing New Hampshire College, were coached this year, as usual, by Prof. W. H. Wolff, Assistant Pomology, and Prof. J. H. Courley of the horticultural department. The success of these teams reflects great credit both to the whole college and to the horticultural department in particular.

PRESIDENT FAIRCHILD IN MANCHESTER.

On Friday night, Nov. 14th, President Fairchild spoke in Manchester at a banquet given by the Derryfield club in honor of Secretary of Agriculture, David F. Houston. Concerning our president and his speech the 'Manchester Union' says: 'Perhaps next in importance to the admirable and illuminating address of the secretary of agriculture was the speech of President Fairchild of New Hampshire State College. It was President Fairchild's initial appearance before a Manchester audience. He made a splendid impression and no doubt many friends of the institution, who, in the years to come will be exceptionally useful and helpful. He is a square-jawed, grizzled up-standing man, who came from Kansas to New Hampshire and looks the part. Unless his looks and talk belie him he is precisely the two-handed kind of a fighter needed in the arduous and exacting work which lies before him.'

Secretary Houston in his address of the evening urged the men of New Hampshire to get behind the state college and make it the useful instrument it might become in the building up of the great industries of New Hampshire agriculture.

Among the other speakers of the evening was Gen. Frank S. Streeter, of Concord. In his speech he made a powerful appeal for the people to support this institution. Gen. Streeter has recently tendered to this college a farm near his home to be used in demonstration work.

FRATERNITIES COMPLETE INITIATIONS.

Last Friday evening saw the last of the freshmen initiations and on account of this fact, college exercises were suspended Saturday.

The various fraternities took in quite a number of men this year. About forty-two men were taken in from the freshman class this year.

DE LAVAL

CREAM SEPARATORS

Are equipped with a perfect oiling system

In a machine which is operated at the speed required for a cream separator perfect oiling is very necessary.

The new system of De Laval automatic oiling provides for a constant and liberal supply of CLEAN oil to every wearing surface of the machine at all times. There are no oil holes to fill up with dirt or perhaps to be neglected altogether, and every part is supplied with clean oil from the oil reservoir automatically and constantly.

In other, so-called, automatic oiling systems some of the parts have to be oiled by hand and no provision is made for getting rid of dirt that may get into the oil from the outside or of small particles of metal that come from wear, so that after a short time the oil supply becomes foul and injurious to the finely adjusted wearing parts.

have the only automatic oiling system which provides for a constant supply of fresh oil and at same time the constant discharge of the used oil together with all worn metal particles or dirt which may have gotten into the used oil.

The perfect system of De Laval lubrication means an easier running and a much longer wearing machine. Visit the local De Laval agent and ask him to explain the advantages of De Laval automatic oiling.

The new 72-page De Laval Dairy Hand Book, in which important dairy questions are ably discussed by the best authorities, is a book that every cow owner should have. Mailed free upon request if you mention this paper. New 1913 De Laval catalog also mailed upon request. Write to nearest office.

AND READY TO FIGHT AGAIN

Cat Refused to Be a Party to Proceedings by Which She Officially Died.

Jerry the pet cat of the Stolz family of Bloomfield, N. J., considerably startled its mistress when, the other afternoon, it appeared at the kitchen door after having been buried as dead during the course of the preceding forenoon. Jerry is of a warlike disposition, and during a recent combat, sustained such injuries that the family decided to put him out of misery. Accordingly the garbage man was prevailed on to place the pet animal in an old tin boiler, pour in chloroform and put on the lid. In a few minutes Jerry was "dead." He was buried and the Stolz children covered the grave of their friend and playmate with flowers. But life to Jerry was sweet, so when Mrs. Stolz opened the kitchen door later, she found him waiting for admittance. Mrs. Stolz screamed and ran, but her husband let the cat in, and declared he would not permit the warrior to be "killed" again.

Her Part in the Task.

It is a wise child who never provides unwitting fun for his elders, but it is a rare child who never makes remarks that set these elders thinking. A devoted leader of the suffrage cause sometimes illustrates a possible point by the story of a little country boy set to picking early strawberries for the family table with the strict injunction: "Now, I want to hear a steady whistle coming from the patch all the while you are at work."

At supper time the strawberries were portioned out, and the smiling boy received an extra share. His little sister thereupon protested that she should be served as liberally as her brother.

"But Willie picked the berries," she was gently reminded. "You didn't help to pick them, did you, dear?"

"No," was the unexpected answer, "but I whistled while Willie did!"

Rather Rough on the Neighbors.

Many brain workers find at times a distinct need for some violent frolic or escape to relieve their pent-up feelings and overstrained nerves.

One such man has a preference for banging door; another for playing the "Dead March in Saul" with one finger; a third, after a heavy day's work, will go round the neighborhood ringing door bells; whilst a fourth, to steady his nerves, will dash a teacup against a wall.

It seems an idiotic thing to slap a cabman's face to relieve one's feelings, yet this is what a well-known actor does; and he does it in such a gentlemanly fashion, and pays so liberally, that the driver seldom takes offense.

Sedentary Sorrows.

First Hen—What a ridiculously giddy creature that young Miss Dorking is! Second Hen—Oh, she's young yet. Wait till she has known the sorrow of sitting for three weeks on a china egg and two door knobs—she'll sober down then.

STUDENT MILITARY CAMP FOR VERMONT.

Burlington, Vt., Nov. 13:—A student military camp for New England will be established on the grounds of the University of Vermont next summer, according to a despatch from Maj. Gen. Wood, U. S. A., received by President Guy Potter Benton of the university today.

The camp will be one of four to be established by the government in various sections of the country as an outcome of the experiment conducted at Gettysburg last summer.

About a thousand students from New England are expected to attend for six weeks. Most of them will be drawn from the colleges and secondary schools where military instruction will be given.

A regular army officer will be in charge. The students will pay their own board, but the government will furnish the camp equipment.

Boston Journal Nov. 14.

President E. T. Fairchild recently left for Washington, D. C., where he attended the annual meeting of the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations. John C. Kendall, director of the New Hampshire experiment station, was also in attendance, as were other members of the college faculty, Prof. F. W. Taylor being one of these. Prof. C. E. Hewitt attended the session of the Land Grant College Engineering Organization, which also met at that time in Washington, D. C.

Only the finest silk is used for stringing the finest pearls. Great beads, round and shiny, unmistakably artificial, and with no more real luster than white marbles, with the exception of what are called Roman pearls, manufactured many years ago, may be allowed to hang together on catgut, but orients must be threaded, pearl kissing pearl, on silken strands, worthy of their shape and "skin."

Cleanliness is
"Prolific."

Benjamin Franklin says, "Money is of a prolific, generating nature. Money can beget money, and its offspring can beget more, and so on."

So with "Wyandotte" cleanliness. It is of a generating nature, for the protection it gives to milk and cream not only insures a better quality of milk and cream but makes possible a higher grade of butter or cheese, and for higher grade butter or cheese there is a big demand, and demand in turn means higher price, and higher price means bigger pay for your labor.

"Wyandotte's" success in cleaning the factory is predetermined. It is made to remove bacteria, to freshen all staleness and to produce a sanitary condition that protects milk from deteriorating influence. Other benefits are derived from the excellent condition in which it keeps the utensils and the containers, for "Wyandotte" is not an injurious chemical which will corrode or rust. It is equally harmless to the thing cleaned as well as to the milk quality.

Ask your dealer for "Wyandotte" or write your supply house. Give it a thorough trial and then you too will appreciate why it is used steadily by 855 of the factoryman as well as hundred of dairyman and milk dealers.

All claims always guaranteed.
